Alcohol-free Drinks
If you are hosting a party this summer, be sure to be a good host by providing some non-alcoholic drinks for your sober drivers and others who wish to abstain from alcohol. Apart from the usual Coke, L&P, Lemonade, and other such soft drinks, here are a few others to try:

Pink Panther
Fill glass with lemonade, and top with raspberry cordial. Add a dash of cream and ice.

Fruit Daiquiri
Half a cup of fresh of canned fruit, 30 ml cream or yoghurt, fruit juice or ginger ale. Blend cream/yoghurt together with ice. Pour into glass, top with juice/ginger ale and mix. Garnish with your favourite garnish.

Purple Passion
Add a dash of blackcurrant syrup to a glass of cold cola. Top with ice.

Running Shorts
Mix equal parts of sparkling grape juice and lemonade.
Cooking with Kids

Are the kids bored and looking for something to do? Here are some cool summer recipes that they can make with minimal supervision. Remember, no eating until the kitchen is clean!

Dirt for Dessert
Ingredients: Oreo cookies (crushed), Chocolate pudding (make it ahead of time), Cool Whip, Gummy Worms
Directions:
Layer crushed oreo cookies, chocolate pudding, and cool whip in cups. Make sure to top with the cookies and place gummy worms on the top!

Frozen Banana Bites
Ingredients: bananas, honey, melted chocolate, or maple syrup in a small bowl, granola, chopped nuts, or chocolate chips
Directions:
Peel the bananas. Help your child slice the bananas into 1-inch pieces. Dip the banana pieces, one at a time, into the honey, chocolate, or syrup and then roll them in the granola, chopped nuts, or chocolate chips. Place the banana bites on an aluminum cookie sheet and put them in the freezer for about an hour, or until they are hard. Serve the banana bites or store them in a plastic bag in the freezer.

Sailboat Snack
Ingredients: Celery Sticks, Peanut Butter, Toothpicks, Fruit Roll Snacks
Directions:
Cut a 3-4 inch section of a celery stick. Spread peanut butter in the groove of the celery. Cut a small triangle from the fruit roll snack and attach to a toothpick. Stick the toothpick in the celery, through the toothpick. Now you have a sailboat snack.

Summer Tuna Penne Salad
Ingredients: 1lb penne pasta, 4 Tablespoons of Olive oil, 1 small red onion chopped, 2 tablespoons capers, 1 whole roasted red pepper sliced and deseeded, or you can use 4-5 sections of red roasted peppers from a jar.
Directions: Cook pasta as per directions on box. Drain in colander and rinse quickly under cold water to cool. Drain well. place into large bowl. Mix n the olive oil to coat the pasta. Let cool. In another bowl add the lemon juice, parsley, the capers, roasted red pepper and celery. Season with salt and pepper.
To the cooked pasta add the tuna and red onion. Carefully mix in the beans. With a slotted spoon mix in the lemon juice mixture to coat the pasta. Let the pasta sit for at least 1/2 hour.

Guide to NYC Gay Pride June 20—27
Regardless of your sexual orientation, the Pride events are a great way to celebrate the diversity of life in New York City. Here’s a sampling of what Pride Week has to offer:

The Rally
Bryant Park (42nd Street and 6th Avenue)
Sunday, June 20, 2004, 2pm-6pm
One month after the Stonewall Riots of June 27-29, 1969, about 500 people gathered for a "Gay Power" demonstration. That event was the very first New York City Pride Rally. Now 35 years later, the Rally in Bryant Park is the official kickoff of Pride Week and will feature comedian Kate Clinton as the emcee.
To get to the Rally from TC by Subway: Take the 1 or 9 Train to the 42nd Street Station.

The 35th Annual Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender PRIDE March
5th Avenue and 52nd Street to Christopher and Greenwich Streets
Sunday, June 27th, 2004, 12PM-end
Moment of Silence: 2PM
The Pride March is one of the cultural highlights of summer in the city. Hundreds of thousands of spectators pack the streets along the March route to cheer the various community, social and religious groups. Be sure to pack a camera and extra sun screen.

PrideFest
Sunday, June 27, 2004, 11am-10:30pm
PrideFest is more than just your ordinary street festival; it is several events in one! Whether you’re there to grab some food after the March, go shopping in the MarketPlace, or buy some art in ArtSpace, or watching your kids play in KidSpace, or enjoying the hours of entertainment at StageFest, you’ll be sure to have a very exciting day!
To get to the March and Pridefest from TC by Subway: Take the 1 or 9 Train to Christopher Street-Sheridan Square.
