Stage 1 - Employee Suggested Goals

This is the start of the performance review process. This is the planning stage.

The employee will receive an email to begin the process. During the step, the employee will meet with their supervisor to set and agree on goals for the year. This can be accomplished in at least two ways. The employee can complete the first stage of the review and provide it to their supervisor. Alternatively, the employee and supervisor can meet to discuss annual goals and complete the form together.
