November 2021 Newsletter

Welcome to the November issue of the Research@TC Newsletter! This issue contains information about restarting in-person data collection, a workshop on using Foundation Finder and PIVOT, an Advocacy Academy hosted by our Office of Government Affairs as well as a preview of a Spring 2022 Grant Writing Group. As always, you'll find information about internal and external funding opportunities. If you haven't already joined one of our discipline-specific listservs for grants with short turnaround times, please register here. If you have any questions or suggestions, please feel free to send an email to vdr@tc.columbia.edu.

Research Workshops and Grant Writing Groups @TC

Using Grants Databases: Funding Your Studies, Research Project, and More

- Tuesday, November 16, 2021, 4-5pm
- Where: 306 Russell in The Gottesman Libraries or via Zoom

The Gottesman Libraries and the Office of the Vice Dean for Research are offering a workshop on key resources to identify potential funding sources for research, including the Foundation Directory Online and Pivot. Lorraine LaPrade,

Research and Instruction Librarian, is leading the workshop and will provide tips on the grant searching process.

Please RSVP by Monday, November 15th. If you'd like to join via Zoom, send Lorraine an email.

Spring 2022 Grant Writing Group

During the Spring 2022 semester, Carol Hammer and Ann Rivet will be leading a grant writing group, which will be open to all tenure-track/tenured faculty, professors of practice, and research scientists. The goal is to create a community of grant writers who are working on applications and who have identified a potential funder. The group will meet every two weeks for 1 ½ hours via zoom. Meetings will be scheduled at a time that is convenient to the members. Stay tuned for additional information which will be sent after Thanksgiving break.

Announcements from Offices Supporting Research@TC

Office of Government Relations

Faculty are invited to the next Advocacy Academy workshop "How to tell your story" on November 9 at 12pm ET via Zoom during which TC Director of Government Relations Matthew J. Camp and science educator Christina Torres will help you communicate your research to policy makers. The dates for future Advocacy Academy workshops are December 14, January 11, February 8 and March 8. All will be held at 12pm ET via Zoom. Register here.

Also, TC Director of Government Relations Matthew J. Camp, PhD writes in Inside Higher Ed what colleges can do to boost research funding.

Institutional Review Board (IRB)

Research Compliance & Safety Committee: Steps for Resuming In-Person Data Collection

The Research Compliance & Safety Committee (RCSC) is eager to support researchers who wish to regain momentum with their human subjects' research data collection goals. Due to COVID-19 precautions, any study that can be conducted online (remotely) should move forward with online procedures and forgo in-person engagement. Following guidance from New York State and Teachers College, the Institutional Review Board (IRB) is reviewing proposals for in-person data collection on a case-by-case basis.

- Please review the Preparedness Research page for the latest information about in-person study precautions.
- For questions about modifying your research in response to COVID-19, please review IRB's Ethics Amid Uncertainty FAQs.
- For ways to adapt research in an emergency, visit this link.
- For questions about human subjects research, visit the TC Institutional Review Board's website including "How to Submit a New IRB Protocol" or email IRB@tc.edu.

If you have questions about the accessibility of proposed safety/hygiene standards or require disability-related accommodations to comply with any of these standards, please contact OASID via email oasid@tc.edu.

Announcements from Funding Agencies

Spencer Foundation

The program officers at the Spencer Foundation, specialized in innovative educational research, have developed a webinar about its semi-annual funding opportunities and tips for writing effective proposals. Spencer offers small- ($50K) and large research grants ($125K-$500K), among others, on a recurring basis. The deadline for the next "large grant" proposal is February 23, 2022.
