Dear Thomas Jefferson,

I am a black slave.
In the Declaration of Independence it says that all men are created equal, but that doesn't apply for black people. All of you patriots don't want to be slaves to the British so why would I still want to be slaves to you people? This is unfair. You are a hypocrite!

From,

An African American Slave.

I, Dan, will not tolerate this nonsense of the British! And neither shall you! They made all sorts of offensive, insane, and unintelligent decisions. They kicked us out of our homes. They made us pay taxes. They cut our trades with other countries. They are treating us like trash. But together we can show them that we are more valuable than trash. More than they will be in their entire generations. And he will regret his decision. And we could start by signing the Declaration of Independence!

These words have been said by:

Dan,
I will sign it.

Dear Thomas Jefferson,

I am Elizabeth Elliot.
I own a dog and a horse.
I am writing to you because I am willing to sign the Declaration of Independence.

I have had enough of being ruled by the British.
We have had to pay taxes and the British have come to New York and have slept in our homes and our beds and making us sleep on the cold floor. We have had to pay so much money for the things we need so now many of us are poor. I am so glad that you wrote the Declaration of Independence. If it were not for you, we would still be owned by England.
These are the reasons to why I am going to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Thankyou for reading
my letter!

Love,
Elizabeth
Elliot

Dear Mr Jefferson and whoever else it may concern,

I am an African slave.
I do not wish to participate in signing the Declaration of Independence. I think it is wrong in the Declaration when you said "all men are created equal." You didn't mean that, because of the reason that I am an African slave, the King will not give me my freedom like he will give to any white person if he approves to this. In the Declaration of Independence, please write that Africans and other slaves get freed if the King approved somewhere in the Declaration.

Sincerely,

A Loyalist

(who might become a Patriot if it is changed)

Do you like beining told what to do? us people should sign the Declaration of Independence because British is treating us like slaves. The British should leave because they come in our houses when ever they feel like it. We should also go to war we don't need protection. What we need is liberty because if you notice we don't have any. We need to sign the Declaration of Independence because King George didnt let us vote for the people who came up with the taxes.

That is not fair at all. We need to sign the Declaration of Independence then we need to go to war. We need to do this now!
