Act 3 Scene 1:

(Peter enters classroom)

Peter: Mrs. Anderson, may I have a word with you?

Mrs. A: Sure Peter, what is the problem?

Peter: I have a problem... its about James.

Mrs. A: James...? What about James?

Peter: You see... there is a little bit of misunderstanding between us.

Mrs. A: What happened?

Peter: Well... we went to a party it was a party for everyone and I was offered a drink from Brian I refused of course... but I was tempted so I did... and I caused a lot of chaos and got into a fight with one of the people there and now I can't be in the school government anymore because James kicked me out saying that he doesn't want someone who is rude, and irresponsible in the school government.

Mrs. A: I see... so this is kind of Brian's fault. Since he offered you a drink but you refused he kept on convincing you to drink and afterwards you had too much and got into a fight and this happened because of James.

Peter: No! Of course not... well it isn't Brian's entire fault but maybe a little...

Mrs. A: Do you think its Brian's fault?

Peter: No... I trust... Brian.

Mrs. A: I don't think you should trust him too much.

Peter: Why not?

Mrs. A: Even though you believe that Brian is your friend, he might be using you to get what he wants.

Peter: Huh?

Mrs. A: Lets just say Brian is not the person that you think he is. Oh my! (Looks at watch) I have an appointment with someone. Excuse me I have to go. (Leaves classroom)
(Later, meets Brian)

Brian: What's wrong? Still upset at what happened at the party?

Peter: Yea...I really need to get back to student government. Can you help me?

Brian: Well... there is ONE way.

Peter: What is it?

Brian: Well... you can use Angela.

Peter: Angela? How can she help me?

Brian: Well we all know that James can't live without Angela. I mean he's always Angela this Angela that. So you can ask Angela to help you.

Peter: But how?

Brian: Well your good friends with Angela too. Ask her to ask James to let you return to student government. I'm pretty sure if Angela begs James can't refuse.

Peter: true...I guess so. But... this is a different story.

Brian: I'm pretty sure Angela is disappointed that you got kicked out of student government. Talk to her, ask her to help you, trust me she will.

Peter: Ya think?

(Brian nods)

Peter: I'm going to find Angela right now. See ya later man, thanks for the advice!

(Later, Peter finds Jessica)

Peter: Jessica! Where is Angela? I need to talk to her!

Jessica: Oh she's sick. She's at home. Is this about what happened at the party?

Peter: Yeah I was hoping she would help me.

Jessica: Well... go over to house and talk to her there.

Peter: AT HER HOUSE! ARE YOU KIDDING ME!

Jessica: Don't think the wrong way. I mean go over to her house. I mean after all you are James best friend, there's nothing to misunderstand.

Peter: Yea but still... going over to a girl's house especially if she's your friends' girl.

Jessica: Nobody will know! Don't worry I won't tell anyone. In fact if it makes you feel better ill go with you.

Peter: Thanks lets go after school.

Act 3 Scene 2:

James: Can someone pass out these fliers to people at school?

Brian: I'll do it.

James: Thanks!

Brian: Hey by the way... what are you planning to do about Peter?

James: (sigh) Have no idea. Can we not talk about it? Lets just do our work ok?

Brian: Sure.

Act 3 Scene 3:

(Doorbell rings, Angela opens door)

Angela: OMG! What brings you two here?

Jessica: Hey! Um... I came to just hang out and Peter here needs to talk to you.

Angela: This is about you and James right?

Peter: Yea...

Angela: Come in let's talk inside.

Peter: Angela... Can you help me? I mean I know I'm putting you in a difficult position but PLEASE you are the only one who can help me right now!

Angela: Of course I'll help you. Why wouldn't I? I mean I completely understand about what happened at the party. I know it's not your fault. To be honest with you, I was actually telling James that he should forget about what happened at the party and that he should let you back to student government. I mean he didn't say anything yet but I think if I keep trying he'll say yes.

Peter: Thanks! I mean... I didn't know you would try this hard to get James to put me back in student government.

Angela: Oh please. I know James is still your friend. He's just a little disappointed about what happened that's all. I mean everyone does stupid things once in a while. Don't worry about it. I'll do everything I can to get you back in student government

Peter: Thanks (hugs Angela)

(Doorbell rings)

Jessica: um... it's James!

Peter: James doesn't know I'm here right now! I gotta go!

Jessica: NO stay. Hang out with us.

Peter: It's ok. I think it will be a little bit awkward if I stayed.

(Peter leaves, James and Brian sees)

Brian: What would Peter be doing here? Why is he with Angela at her house?

James: I'm pretty sure they would have a reason.

Brian: But... you can never be too sure.

Angela: James! (Kisses him) Why did you come?

James: Because I heard you were sick. I wanted to check up on you.

Angela: Aww... that's so sweet.

James: By the way what was Peter doing here?

Angela: Oh... I needed to ask him about homework.

James: Oh.

Angela: By the way... did you consider what I told you before?

James: Consider what?

Angela: About letting Peter return to student government...

James: Angela, I'm kinda tired right now. Can you get me a glass of water?

Angela: Ohh sure hold on.

(Angela exits but drops her handkerchief, Brian picks it up)

(Later James and Brian leaves)

James: Angela seems kinda different doesn't she?

Brian: I noticed she acts differently to you every time she was with Peter

James: What are you trying to say?

Brian: Well...I... never mind it can't be.

James: NO! Tell me what is it?

Brian: Well I noticed that Peter and Angela are together very often these past few weeks. I mean theres no reason for them to be together I mean Angela can always get her homework from Jessica but why from all people Peter?

James: So... are you trying to say they are secretly in a relationship behind my back?

Brian: Oh I forgot to tell you. Here is something to get suspicious about. The other day I saw Peter using a handkerchief to clean his sweat and I looked at the handkerchief closely and I realized it looked exactly the same as the one you gave to Angela on her birthday.

James: Maybe it just looks similar

Brian: Why would teenage boys hold on to a handkerchief so close! Only if it's from someone special.

James: I must talk to Angela!

(Goes back to Angela's house, rings the doorbell, Angela appears)

Angela: Why are here again?

James: Why? So I can't come to my girlfriend's house without telling her in advance!

Angela: No I was just surprised... are you mad?

James: Are you cheating on me? With Peter?!?!?!?

Angela: What! NO! Why would you think that!

James: Why is it that you want me to put him in student government so badly! Is it because you love him so you don't want him to be sad and hurt!

Angela: No! I just thought you should just give him another chance... that's all.

James: Are you in a relationship with him!

Angela: No! What can I do to make you believe me!

James: Don't EVER make me see you with him EVER again! Also, don't tell me who to and who to not put in student government ok!

Angela: ok...

James: By the way... Where is the handkerchief I got you? Remember the one I gave you on your birthday?

Angela: um... it should be somewhere. Why?

James: I want to see it.

Angela: Well I'll find it later.

James: The next time I see you I want you to show me the handkerchief that I gave you.

(James leaves)

Act 3 Scene 4:

(Peter sees Angela, walks up to her)

Peter: So... how did it go?

Angela: Um... there's a little problem between James and me right now. You see there's a little misunderstanding between us so can I help you like after this problem gets fixed.

Peter: Oh... What problem? Is it something serious?

Angela: Oh it's nothing serious. Don't worry about it. But don't worry about it I'll talk to James about you I promise.

Peter: Maybe I shouldn't ask for you help... I feel like I'm pressuring you.

Angela: No of course not. Listen um... I have to go to class right now. I'll talk to you later. Bye!

(Angela leaves)

(Later... Peter is in class)

Teacher: Class Attention! It's now time for our test. Put everything away and take out a pen and a pencil ONLY!

(Peter puts his stuff away, and takes out a pen)

(Pulls out a handkerchief out of his bag)

Peter: (thinking) Oh what's this? Hmm... must be Diana's or something (Peter's girlfriend)

(Peter just puts it in his pocket)
