

The most influential person in my life is my mother. She is always there for me when I am in need and she is always ready to help with any type of problem. She has helped me so much throughout my life, I don't think that there will ever be a way to pay her back. She is a mother and a friend. Whenever we get mad at each other, we are only mad for about twenty minutes and then we are able to make up because we just can't stand being mad at each other. Me and her are so much alike and she never does anything bad for me, it's always for the best of it. She works so hard for me and my two sisters, I don't think I will ever be able to say thank you enough times. My friends are also very close to her, they even call her mom because she treats everyone so nicely. When she asks me to go to the grocery store for her, I get ready in about three seconds and I go and get what she needs. Whenever I am aggravated because of stress she is always there to comfort me and say "it's okay Kareem...". She can always cheer me up and make me smile about anything. Whenever we go do something together we always have fun and never have any negative things ruining the mood.

I work so hard in school and that is the way I am trying to pay back my mom, for doing all the things she does for my sisters and I. In my opinion she is the best mother in the world because she is one who cares about her kids so much she would do anything for them, she also loves them with all her heart. And that is what counts.
