

Entry#4:Me

My name is [redacted] and I was born July 20th 1992, 2:25pm. I am now 14 years old and my goals for when I get older is to be successful. I will have a good job that gives good money and live in a mansion or a very big house. In order for that to happen I'm going to get my education. I will not be one of those kids that sell drugs, sell their body, let people talk to me in a disrespectful way and get caught up in the streets. I'm independent and I don't depend on no one but my family now because I'm young. When I get older I will be independent. I'm a caring, faithful, sweet, gentle, kind, nice, daring, intelligent, honest and funny.

Things I don't like are 2-faced people and also back stabbers because those are the type of people that would just ruin your day. I also hate when people lie. I'm an honest person and people that tell lies can't be trusted. What's the point of telling a lie? If you tell a lie then you need to tell more lies to back up the lie you told. If there is no point to lie then why do it. I don't like when people judge me because I dress like a boy. I really don't care what people think about me with out knowing the truth. If it's not true then I don't care because that is their opinion. I don't judge people; I get to know them and I won't talk about them behind their back. What ever I have to say about them I will tell them face to face. This is who I am,
