

SUSTAINABILITY CHATS

What does sustainability even mean? How can we organize around climate change?

What do I need to know about Columbia's fossil fuel divestment plan?

How do I narrow down a research question about climate change?

If you have any of these questions or others about sustainability join us for Sustainability Chats! This is an informal space hosted by the Center for Sustainable Futures for students to ask questions, share knowledge, and build networks with other interested TC students.

Bi-weekly on Fridays, First meeting February 12, 2:30 pm
